Riparian Knotweed Control Strategies at the Landscape Scale

Judy Blanco, Director of Riparian Restoration
Forterra

Northwest Chapter Society for Ecological Restoration
May 10, 2017
OOPS. LOOKS LIKE YOU GOT LOST IN THE (KNOT)WEEDS.

Stay clear of those invasives. Try searching to find what you're looking for
WE SECURE PLACES—URBAN, RURAL & WILD—that are keystones of a sustainable future for all.
CONSULT THE GENIUS OF PLACE IN ALL

-ALEXANDER POPE
KNOTWEED CONTROL ON THE CEDAR RIVER 2016

Project area extends from river mile 21 downstream to the I-405 overpass.

Treatment Status
- 2+ years treated
- None Seen

Knotweed control performed in partnership with and by: King County Noxious Weed Control Program (KCNWCP), King County Parks, Rivers & Floodplain Management, Seattle Public Utilities and Forterra.
THINK LIKE MOVING WATER
CEDAR RIVER
BEAR CREEK WATERSHED
GREEN-DUWAMISH WATERSHED
THANK YOU!