

Joseph (Joey) Michael Hulbert

Biography

Joey Hulbert is a postdoctoral researcher at WSU based at the Puyallup Research and Extension Center. He is Director of the Forest Health Watch program (<https://foresthealth.org/>), and the Ravenholt Urban Forest Health Lab. Joey has a background in forest health and he is passionate about community engagement. His experiences working with communities and studying the dieback of western redcedar have inspired him to return the generosity of this tree-of-life in hopes of conserving it for future generations.
